Proposal That Truman Resign Not Considered

Revolutionary Suggestion Circulated In Washing. Not Being Entered

IDEA "FANTASTIC" OFFICIALS ASSERT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—(INS)—It was learned on the highest authority today that President Truman is not seriously entertaining proposals that he should resign the presidency in favor of a Republican.

Mr. Truman definitely will not resign as president, this same qualified authority said.

Not Changing Constitution
The president is not the kind to run out on a job, it was stated, nor is he going to change the American constitutional form of government by an executive action on his part.

President Truman was represented as not being willing to put himself in the position of selecting a Republican president for the nation, as has been proposed by Sen. J. William Fulbright (D) Ark.

Fulbright suggested after the Republican election landslide, which won both senate and house for the GOP, that the president should appoint a Republican secretary of state and then resign as chief executive.

Fantastic Idea
Fulbright's proposals were characterized in a high government quarter as being "fantastic." This source, a Democrat, said he had found no responsible Republican who would be willing to permit the president to select his Republican successor.

The question immediately arose as to how such a selection could be made by Mr. Truman with the consent of the nation.

Urges Truman To Select New Cabinet Heads
Washington Paper Says New Cabinet Of Republicans Except State Department

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—(INS)—The Washington Post in an editorial titled "President and His Dilemma" said today that the statesmanlike thing for President Truman to do in view of the repudiation of his administration is to name a new cabinet of Republicans for all offices except the state department.

Commenting on the suggestion that the president resign, the paper said this was without some surface plausibility.

But the Post said that the situation would not be solved by Mr. Truman stepping down in favor of Secretary of State Byrnes or appointing a Republican secretary to whom the reins of office would be given.

The editorial maintained, however, that without a whole-hearted arrangement on government between Democrats and Republicans for the next two years "there may be no option but for the president to resign."

Name New Cabinet?
The statesmanlike thing to do is for the president to name a new cabinet of Republicans for all portfolios except that of the state department. The reason for the resignation is obvious. As long as the secretary of state is his apparent ally to the presidency, he should be a Democrat till the people vote the Democrats out of executive control.

The retention of Secretary Byrnes is facilitated by the fact that at least on the general political lines of our foreign relations a bipartite unity prevails.

But nothing less than the naming of Republicans to the other cabinet offices will suffice to grapple with the new situation created by the Republican landslide.

Election Landslide Gives Truman Problems

By ARTHUR F. HERMANN
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—White House intimates predicted today that President Truman would meet the Republican election landslide by doing what he thinks is best for the nation without regard to his own political future.

The President reportedly told one of his intimates that "we are going to try to do from day to day what's best for the welfare of the country."

Mr. Truman was represented as fully realizing the conflicts which inevitably will arise between his Democratic executive administration and a Republican House and Senate.

No Political Reprisals
He will not resort to political reprisals, according to well-informed sources, but will hew to his middle-of-the-road course, advocating his program in recommendations to Congress, and acting vigorously with veto messages in cases where he believes Congress has erred.

White House circles shrugged off reports that the election returns foreshadowed cabinet changes or shake-ups in his circle of advisers. It is probable, however, that some changes will be made in the course of events, and that Democratic National Committee Chairman and Postmaster General Robert E. La Follette (D) Wis. will be named to head the state department.

Commenting on the suggestion that the president resign, the paper said this was without some surface plausibility.

But the Post said that the situation would not be solved by Mr. Truman stepping down in favor of Secretary of State Byrnes or appointing a Republican secretary to whom the reins of office would be given.

The editorial maintained, however, that without a whole-hearted arrangement on government between Democrats and Republicans for the next two years "there may be no option but for the president to resign."

As long as the secretary of state is his apparent ally to the presidency, he should be a Democrat till the people vote the Democrats out of executive control.

Sen. Vandenberg Sees Effect Of Election Result

Leading Republican Senator Says Early Improvement In Foreign Policy Likely

ELECTION OUTCOMES LESSON TO VISITORS

By LEE VAN ATTA
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg predicted today that American foreign policy would show early and "substantial improvement."

The veteran lawmaker and the man termed number one in United States affairs since Tuesday's sweeping Republican victory said flatly:

Will Speak With Authority
"We will speak with new authority. Our visitors from overseas have been given a very telling lesson of American democracy in action."

He made it clear that he was referring to the outcome of the national elections and their direct result on international affairs. He refused to elaborate on his "substantial improvement" declaration, however, adding with a grin:

"I'm not drawing any pictures yet." But then he said: "The situation is improved."

In Accord
Vandenberg both in New York and in an earlier statement issued in Detroit said that he remained in complete accord with present American partisan tactics in handling of foreign policy, particularly on the highest confidence levels.

Observers through Vandenberg's "improvement" declaration indicated his strong belief American support of the present foreign policy endorsed and largely fostered by the internationalist-minded Michigan statesman would be tremendously increased by Tuesday's election decisions.

Lesson To Visitors
Vandenberg was emphatic in his feeling that the election had given "our visitors" a mindful lesson in both the spirit and determination of American voters.

He said wryly: "Some of them (Continued on Page Two)

Bridget Waters Is Sentenced

One To Five Year Sentence Imposed On Nevada Husband Slayer

LAS VEGAS, Nov. 7.—(INS)—Bridget Waters was under a one to five year prison sentence today for the Labor Day slaying of her husband, Frank.

There had been talk that her conviction of "voluntary manslaughter" might be reduced to a misdemeanor, but Judge A. S. Henderson declared he saw no reason to do other than impose the full sentence and so do justice to the people of Nevada.

The Irish war bride will be eligible for parole in 10 months. Instead, she judge ordered to the state prison at Carson City.

Indications were that her 13-month-old son, Frank Jr., would be left in the care of Rev. John J. Lamb, who was appointed the child's guardian while Mrs. Waters was awaiting trial.

Hannegan Enters Hospital Today
WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—(INS)—Postmaster General Robert E. Hannegan, chairman of the Democratic national committee, was admitted to Walter Reed hospital for a post-election physical checkup.

Medical officers at the hospital said Hannegan would remain there "several days."

Close associates of the Democratic chief insisted that Hannegan's condition is not serious but admitted that his health was a matter of concern throughout the strenuous campaign.

Reds Parade But Stalin Is Absent

By THOMAS C. WATSON
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)
LONDON, Nov. 7.—Army, navy and airforce contingents marched before Soviet leaders at Moscow's Red Square today but Premier Joseph Stalin was absent from the traditional parade commemorating the "October" revolution.

The Moscow radio said that heads of the government and members of the central committee of the Russian Communist party mounted the tribune at Lenin's tomb to review the marchers but that Stalin was not present at the parade.

Earlier an order of the day for the 29th anniversary of the Bolsheviks' seizure of state power was issued in Stalin's name by Gen. Nikolai Bulganin, vice-minister of defense.

Past Shrine of Lenin
Thunderous cheers greeted the marchers as they paraded past the shrine of Nikolai Lenin led by Gen. Pavel Artemiev, commander of the Moscow district, the Moscow radio said.

The procession included armored and mechanized units and artillery groups with a number of giant guns. Marshal Leonid Govorov from the (Continued on Page Two)

Foreign Ministers Hope For Solution Of Trieste Issue

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The Council of Foreign Ministers is banking to a certain extent on the hope that Yugoslavia and Italy will spring a surprise in the near future and inform the Big Four that the issue of frontiers and Trieste has been solved by direct negotiation.

Encouragement of the bilateral method was extended indirectly in recent weeks through frequent commendation and reference by Secretary of State Byrnes and Britain's Bevin to the past over South Tyrol effected between the Austrian and Italian governments.

The first item on the council agenda at tomorrow's meeting is the discussion of this same agreement, after the Big Four passed over it in the initial session on the objection (Continued on Page Two)

Governor Martin Is Expected To Complete Term

Not Likely To Resign To Assume Duties As U. S. Senator Before End Of Term

HARRISBURG, Nov. 7.—(INS)—Gov. Edward Martin was expected today to complete his four-year term ending January 21 rather than resign early next year to assume his duties as a U. S. senator.

Governor Martin, Republican U. S. senator-elect, said there were indications his presence would not be required at Washington January 6 when the GOP organizes the senate.

Republican U. S. senatorial candidates were victorious in 23 contests boosting the GOP membership in the upper chamber to 51, two more than required for a majority.

Attorney General James H. Duff, Republican governor-elect will be inaugurated January 21, his 64th birthday.

"So far as resigning before my term expires on January 21, I don't know yet," Governor Martin said. "I might tear up things here in Harrisburg. It's something I'll have to think about."

If Governor Martin should resign, Lt. Gov. John S. Bell, of Wyndwood, would assume the chief executive's post until Duff was inaugurated.

Runaway Victory In State Surprises GOP

By JOHN PAGET
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 7.—Pennsylvania scented the cost of victory today and found it negligible in the light of the smashing triumph which wrecked the Democratic machine.

Only a scattered handful of incumbent Republican candidates were not swept into office on the crest of the thundering majority recorded for the GOP. Among them was State Sen. Edwin S. Byrnes, of Exeter, defeated by former assemblyman Burton Tarr, Democrat.

Over 600,000 Martin Majority
U. S. Senator-elect Edward Martin paced the GOP state to victory by approximately 604,000 votes while Governor-elect James H. Duff captured about 553,000 ballots.

Martin, ending four years in the governor's chair, indicated he would not resign to be sworn into office January 6 when the Senate was organized. The governor, whose term expires January 21, said he believed enough Republicans would be available to make his presence unnecessary.

Death Ends Love

Murder and suicide ended hopeless love of Mrs. Florence Layman, 22-year-old mother of two children, and George Ellis Whitman, 26, Navy veteran estranged from his war-time bride. Shot through the heart, their bodies were found on the couch in Mrs. Layman's Stoneham, Mass., home by her husband, Robert, who had been sleeping in an adjoining bedroom. (Continued on Page Two)

Molotov Will Call On Truman

No Political Significance Is Attached To Visit To White House Today

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—(INS)—Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov will call on President Truman at 4 p. m. EST today but observers attached no political significance to the visit.

Molotov is due to be the guest of honor this evening at the Soviet embassy's annual brilliant reception and cocktail party commemorating the October revolution of 1917 which swept the Communist party into control of Russia.

It was noted by officials that in the case of a person of his rank visiting a foreign country it would be almost obligatory for him to call and pay his respects to the President.

Molotov's public appearance at the reception will be his first in Washington. During the war he was a guest at the White House for several days, but for security reasons, his presence was not publicly divulged until he was safely home in Moscow.

On that trip he visited New York inconspicuously.

Senator Denies Suggestion That Truman Resign

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 7.—(INS)—Sen. J. William Fulbright (D) Ark., left in Philadelphia today a denial that he had originated a suggestion that President Truman resign in view of the election of a Republican-controlled Congress.

The senator added, however, that he would approve such an action by the chief executive.

Fulbright, who left for Washington following a speech in Bryn Mawr, said the suggestion originated as a "gag" among capital reporters.

New Daughter Has Nine Grandparents

Daughter Born To Mr. And Mrs. R. L. Patton, Franklin Avenue, Thirtieth Great-Grandchild

When Sharon Lee Patton, new daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Patton, 209 Franklin avenue, arrived at the New Castle hospital, early this morning, it was discovered that the newborn had exactly nine living grandparents, while most children have only three or four when they are born.

Sharon Lee not only has nine living grandparents, but she is the thirteenth great-grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Patton, 908 Chestnut street.

Policy Leaders Of Republicans Meet Next Week

Will Consider Program To Be Followed In National Legislation

TAX REDUCTIONS TO BE CONSIDERED

By WILLIAM THEIS
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Republican policy leaders will meet in Washington one week from today to outline a program topped by labor legislation for the GOP-controlled 80th Congress.

Even before the votes in Tuesday's landslide were counted, administration sources disclosed that two key Republican objectives—modification of labor's powers and tax reductions—were certainties in the new Congress.

The sweep which gave the Republicans decisive majorities in both house and senate guaranteed this prospect.

Sharp Economies
Sharp economies to balance the budget, largely through slashing new deal agencies, curtailment of emergency executive powers and investigation of government lavishly expected to fit high up in the GOP agenda.

Sen. Robert A. Taft (R) Ohio, who probably will be the new senate majority leader, announced that the existing GOP policy committee will meet Nov. 14 to prepare a program for its successor group in the new Congress.

The labor bill has been "in the work" ever since President Truman vetoed the ill-fated Case bill last summer.

Remedial Legislation
Sen. Ball (R) Minn. has been working on such legislation for weeks and Rep. Hartley (R) N. J., who probably will head the house labor committee, told International News Service he will introduce "remedial labor legislation" at the earliest opportunity.

Hartley said he was "confident that a Republican Congress can bring industrial peace to this country." He added:

"Mass picketing must be outlawed and all labor violence must be made punishable by law. The nation must have a law under which labor is compelled to assume responsibility for fulfillment of its obligations to management."

A wholesale overhauling of the Wagner act appeared to be in prospect.

Far Reaching Policy Given On Mandates

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Nov. 7.—(INS)—The United States today announced a far-reaching policy on trusteeship of mandated territories which would prevent the Soviet Union from exercising its "veto" over agreements covering mandated islands in the Pacific.

John Foster Dulles, American delegate, told the United Nations trusteeship committee that a single mandatory power can put a territory under trusteeship without consulting its neighbors if two-thirds of the general assembly agrees.

SCARE AWAY BURGLARS
Policemen Thompson and Tewell in a cruiser car apparently scared away burglars at 2:45 a. m. today while attempting to enter the Fischer Plumbing company, North Shennango street. The panels of a door were found by the officers to have been removed when an inspection was made.

For other sports and other days will crowd the pigskin sport from off the pages more each day, the time is running short. ## Setup Changed At VA Office

Various Activities Are Set Up Under Different
Heads Effective
This Month

JONES HEAD OF EDUCATION PLAN

Under a new set-up which becomes effective this month, the various services at the local office of the Veterans Administration have been changed. Worrell M. Jones, who has been in charge of the V. A. here, has been promoted to the post of area supervisor of vocational education, which has been expanded to include Lawrence and Beaver counties, under the new arrangement. The contact division, which meets the veteran and establishes his claim or directs him to the division which he is seeking to contact, will be under the senior contact representative on duty. This branch will serve only Lawrence county veterans.

The medical division will serve Lawrence, Beaver and parts of Mercer counties and will be in charge of the chief medical officer on duty. The advertisement division, which is under the supervision of W. R. Anderson, vocational advisor, will serve Beaver, Lawrence and parts of Mercer counties.

There will be no officer in charge of the entire office here as heretofore, but each division head will be responsible to the regional office in Pittsburgh.

Walter Braham, general chairman of the annual Armistice Day dinner, held by local World War One veterans for veterans of all wars, announced today that a final report on the ticket sale must be made by Friday morning. Reports of the various ticket chairmen from the different posts can be made to Secretary James A. Fletcher between 10 and 11 a. m. Friday.

unexpected, while leaders expected to win enough votes to continue domination of statewide officers, the legislature and the 33-member congressional delegation, they did not forecast a runaway victory. Again, as in 1934 when the Democrats swept the state in a gubernatorial election, party schemers could not accurately foretell the reaction of a large bloc of independents to the political tug-of-war.

Duff, rounding out a four-year term as state's attorney general, will be backed by a legislature embracing more Republicans than any session since 1931. The GOP sweep turned up victories for at least 170 members of the 208-seat House.

The congressional delegation dominated 10-14 by Republicans during the last session, will go to Washington with only five Democrats on its rolls. Democrats surviving the Republican landslide were incumbents Francis E. Walter, of Easton, in the 20th District; Augustine B. Kelley, of Greensburg, in the 27th; Herman P. Eberhart, of Pittsburgh, in the 32nd; and Thomas Morgan, of Fredericktown, in the 24th; and Frank Buchanan, of McKeesport, in the 33rd.

Two senators were added to the 32-member GOP delegation in the upper chamber, victories which meant that executive nominations submitted by the governor during the 1947 session could not be sidetracked by Democrats. During past sessions, the GOP lacked two votes necessary to approve executive nominations.

After the parade had passed Gov. mounted the government stand and addressed the thousands of Soviet citizens jam-packed into the square. He declared that Russia's foreign policy "unflinchingly and consistently defends the principles of honest cooperation between nations and fights unflinchingly for a lasting, stable and democratic peace."

Improve Military Might

He added, echoing Stalin's pronouncements in the order of the day, that the Soviet armed forces constitute a reliable guard for the security of the motherland and a reliable bulwark for world wide peace. He added:

"Our tasks are to unceasingly improve the military might of our land troops, air forces and navy, to strengthen military discipline and vigilantly guard the frontiers of our native land."

In another address Sergei Vavilov, chairman of the Soviet Academy of Sciences, asserted:

"I believe that in the future our joint efforts will achieve results which will exceed the scientific achievements beyond our frontiers."

Moscow's procession was held simultaneously with similar military parades and workers demonstrations from the Baltic to the Pacific opening the traditional three-day celebration.

Moscow wore a festive air and thousands of banners praising the dedication of the Soviet people to the twin goals of military preparedness and industrial might.

olary question of to whom the president would submit his own resignation.

Both questions remain unanswered in the constitution and in precedent.

Earlier today Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross said that the president was not commenting on the Fulbright proposal. There is a well-founded belief that the president is withholding comment because he does not wish to dignify the suggestion by a formal denial, nor does he want a denial to come from anyone connected with the White House.

As a matter of fact, it was learned that there has been very little White House discussion about President Truman's future course for the next two years because there has not been time for it. It was noted in some Washington quarters that Fulbright's suggestion would change the American constitutional form of government to conform to the British parliamentary system.

Fulbright is a former Oxford student, and one wholly quoted him today is: "Perhaps Fulbright went to Oxford too young."

of Soviet Foreign Commissar Molotov's to its inclusion in the Italian peace treaty.

In the minds of observers, there is little doubt that Byrnes and Bevin will vigorously endorse the Austro-Italian deal on South Tyrol and demand that the majority vote of two-thirds approval given this "recommendation" by the Paris Conference of 21 should be respected. Molotov fought the proposal here and in Paris on the contention that it does not "belong" in the treaty and is invalid anyhow.

If the Big Four at tomorrow's meeting clear decks sufficiently to tackle the statute of the free territory of Trieste, it is likely that both Byrnes and Bevin will point back to the Austro-Italian deal as setting a commendable example in the case of Yugoslavia and Italy in the disputed frontier issue.

The average effectiveness for all bombing over Europe was only 12.6 per cent.

been saddled with more than a fair share of the cost of government, he asserted. While other taxes have been determined on the basis of income, profit, volume, or other like evidence of variable ability to pay, property owners alone have submitted to an annual slice into capital value, which has kept increasing.

The vast program of public housing, which is tax exempt, can only lead to the socialization of property. The more that goes over to the socialized category, the less there is left to share the total municipal cost. This public housing, he asserted, is a great field for political intrigue and offers many opportunities of personal advantage to the unscrupulous.

Figures show that food costs have gone up 141 per cent, clothing, 149 per cent, and the current average price for all living cost items are up 130 per cent, but rents have been frozen 100 per cent of the average from 1933 to 1939.

Federal Trucks Stand Up When Others Are Through

Up to a certain point there isn't much to choose between motor trucks. Something near the same mileage per gallon, something the same oil consumption and the same speed on good roads.

It's when the going gets tough that the Federal shows up as the superior truck. When the ordinary truck has quit, when the "nearly as good" truck is all through, Federal stays in there to finish the job.

Red Blood Cells Must Be Kept Up If You Want To Feel Alive

Thousands Now Regaining Old Time Pep, Vigor and Drive By Releasing Vibrant Energy To Every Muscle, Fibre, Cell

Overwork, undue worry, and lack of certain foods often reduces the red-blood strength—and starved, weak, puny blood just hasn't the power to keep up your energy and drive.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength! Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula, which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get backy with gas, distast and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freedom and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin, firm flesh, fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Study Health.

Garden Council Hears Talk On "Christmas Arrangements"

Members of the Garden Council of Lawrence County and guests Wednesday afternoon in the guild room of Trinity Episcopal church heard Mrs. Helen Pile, of Youngstown, talk on "Christmas Arrangements". Mrs. Pile was introduced by Mrs. Frank Alborn, president of the East Brook Garden club.

"Christmas is the time of year to make the home gay," she said setting the keynote of her talk. First decorate the doorway, then the entrance hall to shout welcome, then each room separately, not forgetting the kitchen, she said.

"Don't feel you have to use red and green," she advised in cases where another color or combination would look better in a certain room. She used a great variety of evergreens in making the arrangements with which she illustrated her talk and several times said of hollyhock and spruce that as these evergreens drop their needles, they could be used only in water or outside.

And some place in your decoration urged, use at Nativity scene.

One very useful appearance she showed was a flat cushion of wire folded around evergreens.

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS
CHILDS

Real Leadership
Is Need Of Nation

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—"Our only restraint is our own self-restraint." Those words were written by a great American, the late Chief Justice William V. Brandeis, who also happened to be a Republican. Justice Brandeis was addressing in one of his famous dissents the stubborn conservative majority on the Supreme Court.

That majority, in Stone's interpretation, thwarted the intentions of congress in rejecting law after law as unconstitutional. They based their decisions not so much on the law as on their own economic predilections. They were out to block the New Deal.

Open warfare between the court and the president followed. The divided powers of government seemed to make stalemate inevitable. That has happened again and again under our constitutional system. This is written on election night. It is too early to say whether the Republican sweep will measure up to the sanguine claims made by the GOP campaign managers. But at this moment there seems little doubt that the "ins" are on the way out, carried on one of those almost irresistible tides that seem to govern American politics.

For the Republicans, as they begin to assume power, this should be a sobering moment. Stone's words about restraint should be written up in neon lights on the Capitol dome. Only by the exercise of the greatest self-restraint will our system of divided powers work during the next two crucial years.

See Battle Within Ranks
The New York Times news bulletin says that Governor Thomas E. Dewey's majority for re-election will be 650,000 or more. That means he has a formidable contender for the Republican presidential nomination in 1948 even though he is a defeated candidate and the party has never renominated a man once defeated.

It means that the jealousies and rivalries within the GOP will be multiplied and intensified. The Republican party is no harmonious army of the right marching on to ultimate victory. It is almost as torn by factionalism as the Democratic party.

First, there are the rivalries for place and power. The years of waiting have been lean. The prize in 1948 is a rich one. While Senator Robert A. Taft is far out ahead in organization strength and in delegates already named down, this does not mean that the other contenders will give up.

Rivalries are keen on a lower level. If, as now seems certain, the Republicans control the House, there will be a bitter contest for the offices that go with control. Representative Clarence Brown of Ohio and Representative Charles Hall of Indiana are both zealous contenders for the office of majority leader.

Besides the personal rivalries there are profound differences of belief within the party. Liberal-Progressives such as Senator Morse of Oregon, Senator Aiken and his newly elected colleague, Senator Ralph Flanagan of Vermont, Senator Tobey of New Hampshire and others cannot be ignored by the ultra-conservatives and reactionaries who will claim the victory as theirs.

Reactionaries Face Challenges
The reactionaries are certain to be challenged within their own party, and vigorously. The Liberal-Progressives remember that the Republican party has other roots than those that connect with big business. They remember Theodore Roosevelt and the men he attracted to his banner such men as the late Gifford Pinchot, who helped to pioneer the whole conservation movement.

In the flush of victory these differences will be submerged. When Franklin Roosevelt came into office after 12 years of Republican rule, the Democratic party gave a remarkable imitation of harmony. It lasted nearly four years.

The immediate danger is that the little men and little minds who have waited for this opportunity will (Continued on Page Seven)

You're Telling Me

By WILLIAM RITT
Central Press Writer

Just noticed that dictionary of ours has a big list of men's first names in the back—and what they mean. So we got to thinking of big shots that popped into mind was that of—

Harry Truman. Harry, the book said, was a diminutive of Henry and meant "Chief of a House." Guess he better send a copy of this book to all of the congressmen.

Next name we thought of was Bob Feller's. Bob is a diminutive of Robert which, we learned, means "Bright in Fame." Right on the nose with that one!

Joseph Stalin came next to mind. Joseph-Joseph. Ah! Here it is: "He shall add." Brother, he sure has! Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, a big chunk of Poland, a slice of Finland and the latest returns from the Far East are not yet in.

Incidentally another Joseph—Joe Louis—has been doing a bit of adding for the last seven, eight or nine years. Have you counted his kayoes lately?

Clement Attlee? British prime minister—the only said the losers, who turn Britain into a fiery Communist camp! Clement? The book answers: "Mild-tempered; merciful." Yep, that's Clem!

Tiring of those easy names we turned to Trygve, Dwight, Katschew, Winston, Vacheklav, Mohandas, Hjalmar—the book said nothing about them. Guess the writer never heard of those boys. But we sure have, haven't we, Mac?

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

(Distributed By International News Service)

I hear that Jim Farley sent the Democrats a telegram reading "Had enough?"

Mr. Farley will be remembered as a pre-party of destiny worker.

In Jim's day Democrats were Democrats. If they couldn't win under that party label they didn't go on the ticket.

Jim went to peddling soft drinks about the time the party went to peddling soft syrup. He's still working.

Bob Hannegan did the best he could but when you run a flea circus in New York you can't expect all the customers to be satisfied with an itch.

John Lewis who tried tying his labor union to a political party and lost wired Phil Murray "Now would you like to try for '48?"

Well, as the old lady said as she sorted out the laundry "There'll be some changes made."

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Mohandas K. Gandhi, known to all mankind for his wisdom and his piety, believes no longer that he will live to be 125.

Up to a few days ago he was confident that he would reach the century and a quarter. But his confidence is gone.

"I have lost my equanimity," he said.

It seems that he attended some kind of ceremony in connection with his 77th birthday and noticed that candy and fruit were being distributed to a lot of children who did not need the stuff.

He lost his self-control, he said, and with it several years of his life. Without self-control and equanimity, said the Mahatma, one cannot grow very old.

He also sent a message to America. He wants us to dislodge the money god, called Mammon from the throne.

"I think America has a very big future," he remarked, "but it has a dismal future if it swears by Mammon."

Well, there's something to that. We shouldn't think too much about money.

But I haven't noticed that, although we have the reputation of being very materialistic and dollar-minded, none of the other nations have ever turned down any of our money yet.

On the contrary, that despisable product of the god Mammon seems to be an extremely welcome commodity in Gandhi's country, as well as in all the others that criticize us for our materialism, our lack of culture and art and literature, of all those wonderful things they claim to have in such abundance.

However, I must not lose my equanimity.

Remember back a few months . . . strong talk was going on about the munitions manufacturers . . . or those who were supposed to have made munitions during the war. Things kinda quieted down didn't they? Well keep your ears open . . . the lid will be popping off again very soon, and what nasty little tales will come out to light. Oh glory be, but some will they had never gone near Washington.

The New Castle Booster Club . . . under the leadership of Bill Sands . . . is lumbering along in the formative stage and is showing some great possibilities. Each member . . . has received a letter, asking for suggestions . . . be sure that these letters are returned. This group is a group for New Castle . . . and by the citizens of New Castle . . . no individual pets will be admitted . . . so make known your thoughts.

We are looking forward with great pleasure . . . New Castle back in organized baseball . . . Take me out to the ball game . . . oh what a time we will have. Good clean sport and you can holler your lungs out and feel so much better the next day . . . if you can talk.

Coal Situation Is Humiliating To U. S.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7
WITH the elections over, perhaps the Truman administration may be able to face less cravenly the realities in the present coal-wage controversy and extricate itself from what seems to be about as humiliating a position as this government well could occupy. For, now it should at least be free from the pre-election West Virginia political considerations generally ascribed to it.

A REVIEW of the facts in this business should be useful at this time. Nearly six months ago a nationwide coal strike brought the country to the verge of complete economic strangulation. The reason was the refusal of Mr. John L. Lewis to consider the 15-cent-an-hour wage increase which the administration had practically compelled the operators to offer and which it had established as a formula. After the Lewis refusal, the administration, to avert disaster, was forced to take over the mines. It then proceeded to make concessions both in wages and other things far higher than its own established standard.

THESE were, in fact, so high that the mine owners hesitated to give their property back on the ground that they could not operate so profitably under these terms. At any rate, the mines are still in the hands of the government and it was upon the government that Mr. Lewis, two weeks before the election, made additional demands. In effect, he said that though the contract was still in force unless its rates were revised upward, there would be another strike. The obvious and natural reaction to this of Secretary of the Interior Krug was to reject the Lewis demand, but when President Truman, after consultation with Chairman Hannegan of the Democratic committee, assured his press conference there would be no strike, Mr. Krug modified his attitude to the point of agreeing that the matter was negotiable. Actually, before the Truman-Hannegan conference Captain Collinson, the government's coal mines administrator, had made certain concessions to the union on such minor issues as retroactive vacation pay.

THUS, to all intents and purposes, the government surrendered almost as soon as Mr. Lewis pointed his pistol, and after it was learned that Mr. Truman had conferred with his chief political strategist in this matter, it was natural to conclude that one reason for surrender was fear that a stiffer attitude would cause the defeat of Democratic Senator Kilgore of West Virginia, an administration supporter. If this were true, it is interesting to note that though the United Mine Workers of America indicted neither the Democratic nor Republican ticket, the surrender was at least partially in vain, as Mr. William Blizard, head of UMW District No. 17, came out of the day election with an appeal to all miners to vote against Senator Kilgore because of his alleged tie with the "Communist bossed CIO-PAC."

ASIDE from its utter unworthiness as a reason for the political salvation of Senator Kilgore—no other senator—is no price to pay for this mortifying exhibition of the futility and passibility of the government—even if his defeat meant loss of Senate control to the Administration. It can, of course, be said that in his supreme acquiescence Mr. Truman is but carrying out another "Roosevelt policy" that in a somewhat similar situation, and with the war on, the late Mr. Roosevelt, so highly extolled as of supreme virtue and courage, asked "what can I do?"—and did nothing. But, that is no excuse. This threatened strike is not one against employers; it is against the government itself—and for that there can be no defense.

IF the right to strike against the government is sustained, there is nothing resembling public protection left. In this case even if Mr. Truman, like Mr. Roosevelt, were helpless to do anything, he need not, like Mr. Roosevelt, have refrained from denouncing the demands, laying all the facts before the people, telling them that the situation itself is intolerable, asking their support in the next session of legislation that will make impossible the coercing of the government, the humiliation of its head and damage to the people as a whole.

PERHAPS, now the election is over and the fate of Senator Kilgore no longer a matter of concern to Mr. Hannegan, Mr. Truman may express himself along these lines. Certainly, he must feel that way. No one in his position could feel otherwise. But, if he does not speak, some one else should—and certainly, no one group—let alone one man—should be more powerful than the government. A strike against the government used to be regarded as unthinkable.

That, with almost complete impunity, it now can be openly threatened, shows the evil extremes to which the professional labor leaders of today are prepared to go and how far along the road to labor-leader domination we have traveled since the Democratic administration contracted its alliance and its policy of official coodling was adopted.

Words Of Wisdom

Work, don't make fine playing peaches about bread, but earn it. — Charles Dickens.

State Police Say:

The motorist and the pedestrian have a common responsibility, but did you ever ponder the added responsibility attached to the head of a family. The duties they have in the parental guidance of their children in safe practices as pedestrians, drivers, bicyclists, skiers, etc. together with their own responsibility for the safety of their family when they are behind the wheel.

SOME SANE YOUTH PROGRAMS

The appalling prevalence of juvenile delinquency has caused local communities to try to work out concerted efforts to do something about it. Also some national organizations are coming forth with delinquency and corrective programs.

For example, there has come to my desk "A Practical Program of Youth Guidance" put out by a committee of the "Fraternal Order of Eagles." I am not a member of it, of which Judge E. J. Ruesamen, Court House, St. Cloud, Minn., is chairman. This hand book strikes me as one of the sanest and best-balanced programs I have seen.

Home Comes First
While it emphasizes concerted community action and gives accounts of numerous community programs throughout the nation, it places the home first. To quote: "Nothing we can do is a substitute for the street protective guidance and influence of true religious homes and of parents who have accepted the God-given responsibility that comes with the birth of children in their own likeness and image. . . . It is as much our duty to be strict and just as to be kind. . . . Not only are the parents never home but they do not know where the young folks are and advise them not to care."

A Broken Home
"Defective discipline and defective family relationship backgrounds are both more frequent in delinquency groups than in non-delinquency groups. The child coming from a broken home or the child coming from a home where discipline is defective, is more likely to grow into a delinquent than a child from a normal home."

"As parents, our first obligation is to place or keep our own home in order, accepting the God-given responsibility of rearing our children as our primary obligation in life. If we do this it will become contagious and affect other homes and children in the neighborhood in which we live."

Heads Of Families
Now the kind of parents who belong to most fraternal organizations, service clubs, civic clubs and the like are above average in educational and economic opportunities and family background. Most of them are heads of families who are looked up to by their communities. Therefore, the example of these parents and the conduct of their children bear far more weight than average parents and children do in determining the prevalence of delinquency and good citizenship.

Wise, the handbook has this to say about youth centers: "We submit that Youth Centers, wherever the need for them is indicated, should be affiliated so far as possible with the churches, school, and settlement houses in the immediate residential sections. The activities of these centers (except in congested industrial areas, we assume) should be limited to one or two nights a week and should have strong supervision. Their facilities should be available to young people during those hours in which they are comparatively free from school and home duties. Proper leadership and expert supervision should be maintained at all times in a well-rounded youth program."

Judge Henry Ellenbogen, of the Court of Common Pleas, of Pittsburgh, Pa., has also just issued a report of "The Pittsburgh Plan" of combating juvenile delinquency. My own bulletin, "How Juvenile Delinquency Can Be Curbed," may be had in a stamped addressed envelope by writing me at 235 East 45th Street, New York, N. Y.

There is also a movement by the postoffice to make the cabinet members ex-officio members of the House of Representatives, so that they could speak on the floor of the House at any time and be as in the English House of Parliament, subject to personal interrogation from the floor of the House by thinking members of the House. In that way the Secretary of War, the Secretary of the Navy, the Secretary of State and in fact all the Secretaries would have the opportunity of explaining and answering questions concerning the affairs of their respective departments.

The people of the United States have had a very wholesome lesson in government affairs due to the long tenure of office of the late President Roosevelt. They don't want to go through another experience of this kind. When the Burroughs are eventually extinguished, or when upwards of three million officers and soldiers are screened and released to at least one million, the people will breathe easier.

The colors of New York City's flag—blue, white, and orange—are the same colors which floated over Manhattan island under Dutch rule more than 300 years ago.

DO MEN LIKE WOMEN?
"Do men like women?" followed then. With "Do the women like the men?"

And foolish, however wise. Would be the person who replies, "Admitting either sex is not. An altogether perfect lot."

In every group of males appears the shatterer of his fellows' ears; the party spoiler, and the fool. Who breaks behavior's every rule. And thinks whatever wrong is done. Excusable if labeled "fun."

In every group of women fair You'll find the gigglers always there; The critics of their sisters' hats; The gossips spoken of as "cats." But this is true of every one: Her love some man depends upon.

Some woman loves that lusty lout Who shames her when he starts to shout. Some man adores that giggler gay And will unto his final day. Pause in both sexes? That is true. But like each other? Sure we do! (Copyright, 1946, Edgar A. Guest)

The World and the Mud Puddles

NO MORE "LIFE PRESIDENTS"

During the last twelve years or more of the life of Franklin Roosevelt, he was President of this nation and as such he appointed one hundred eighty-six, or seventy-five per cent of the two hundred fifty Judges of the District and Circuit Courts of the United States, as well as more than one-half of all the Judges in the Customs Courts, the Courts of Appeals, the District of Columbia Courts and all our Courts in American territories overseas. He found it proved unnecessary, finally, to increase the number of the members of the Supreme Court inasmuch as nearly all the members of the Supreme Court were finally appointed by him due to the resignation or death of members of the Court during the time he occupied the office of President. In addition to all this he had the appointing of thousands of other officers of the government without the advice and approval of the Senate.

It was thought that no President would seek more than two terms of office, yet in 1944 the tradition of only two terms was broken and in 1944 it was smashed all to smithereens by the President seeking and obtaining a fourth term and that nullified to a large extent the scheme of checks and balances provided for in the Constitution of the nation.

Students of government will with alarm the possible indefinite tenure of the office of President. They see nothing but danger ahead. The death of Roosevelt and the war have sidetracked the movement to make a single six-year term of the Presidency—six years and not eligible for re-election. This movement will probably be revived when we get through with the making of the Peace, but it should be given very serious consideration by the voters of the nation.

There is also a movement by the postoffice to make the cabinet members ex-officio members of the House of Representatives, so that they could speak on the floor of the House at any time and be as in the English House of Parliament, subject to personal interrogation from the floor of the House by thinking members of the House. In that way the Secretary of War, the Secretary of the Navy, the Secretary of State and in fact all the Secretaries would have the opportunity of explaining and answering questions concerning the affairs of their respective departments.

Shinto Gods Draw Fifth Of Pre-War Shrine Attendance

Loss Of War Causes Japanese To Shrink From Shrines; 'Cupid'
Gods Popular

TOKYO.—(INS)—Shinto gods who let Japan down with a thud during the past war have lost so much face they now draw less than a fifth of their pre-war shrine attendance.

Only the "cupids" shrines, supposed to have match-making powers, are doing a good business as Japan's soldier millions return from overseas.

The average Shinto shrine is having a hard time since Gen. MacArthur last December forbade the Japanese government to prod and threaten the people into turning out to worship their ancestors and war gods.

Now, in order to support themselves, many previously wealthy shrines have turned to sponsoring marriages as a means of support.

Oldest Shrine

Izumo, oldest shrine in Japan, is bustling with three times its pre-war activity as 60 to 70 thousand men and women make pilgrimage to the "cupids" shrine each month. In addition to about 50,000 yen monthly left at the altar by the pilgrims, monthly receipts from marriage ceremonies range up to a hundred thousand yen.

Wealthy couples frequently pay as high as 5,000 yen just for sacred music which consists of Shinto priests beating drums and blowing pipe-shaped reed instruments.

Of Japan's 110,000 registered Shinto shrines about 206 received direct support from the state.

Revenue for most shrines comes from private gifts, sales of charms and calendars, sacred dances and the fees for offering prayers.

Since the war many shrine followers accordingly have begun to band themselves into religious associations for supporting their shrines.

W. K. Bunce, head of the religious division of U. S. general headquarters, listed four reasons for the decline in shrine attendance and consequent loss of revenue: Transportation shortage, financial restrictions making it impossible for supporters to give their usual gifts, loss of faith in gods since Japan's defeat, and removal of government compulsion to worship.

Siamese Boxers Make Americans Look Like Sissies

Ferocious Style Of Orientals Makes
U. S. Wrestling Champs
Appear As Pickers

BANGKOK.—(INS)—America's muscle men, the grunt and groan boys who put on the ferocious wrestling matches that make crowds scream in the United States, pickers. Take it from someone who has just seen a Siamese boxing match. Out here in this gentle land of pagodas, where yellow robed monks stroll through the street and where the gentle waters of the klongs and canals flow, they go in for murder in the prize ring.

There is only one cardinal rule to Siamese boxing—neither opponent is allowed to kick the referee.

Slash Out

The boxers usually slash out from their corners like the speed of light, crouch and then lead with their left foot.

Classic blow in the Siamese prize ring is for the boxer to kick his opponent in the chin with his left foot, club him with both fists, they carry through with his right foot to the stomach.

Another favorite "punch" is for the boxer to give a quick back flip and tear his opponent's head apart with a kick from both feet. This usually leaves the other boxer about 20 feet from the ring and draws screams of approval from the crowd.

The largest arena in Siam belongs to the privy purse and the King is, in effect, the nation's Mike Jacobs.

Spectators try to get seats behind the ring posts for then they stand little danger of being hit by a falling boxer.

Federal debt is due to go down in November. The tides do it twice a day.

Bomb Is Exploded Outside Home Of Beer Distributor

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 7.—(INS)—A bomb exploded today outside the home of a Pittsburgh beer distributor who once before had been the victim of violence in the AFL-CIO jurisdictional "beer war" in Pittsburgh.

Police said the bomb shattered several windows in the home of Louis Carletti but did little other damage.

Carletti, his wife and three daughters were not awakened by the blast, but many neighbors were. The beer distributor, who celebrated his 42nd birthday today, commented that it was probably a "birthday present."

Nine days ago unidentified persons smashed a large plate-glass window and the windshields of two brewery trucks at Carletti's distributing plant.

Carletti was one of the members of the Western Pennsylvania Beer Distributors association who have ignored AFL teamster orders to stop dealing with Pittsburgh breweries.

Meanwhile, AFL pickets will take their posts today at 60 taverns selling what the teamsters termed "unfair" beer.

Reliability Of Jap Documents Under Question

TOKYO, Nov. 7.—(INS)—Chief Prosecutor Joseph B. Keenan of the United States told his staff today at the Tokyo war crimes trial that the prosecution "does not intend to be bound by the truthfulness of anything which comes from Japanese sources—whether witnesses or documents."

Keenan, who is directing the case against Hideki Tojo and the 26 other top Japanese suspects, thus gave the first public indication that the prosecution is concerned over the reliability of Japanese documents and witnesses.

Keenan later told International News Service that he had made his statement "without reservation" although he added:

"I hope and trust I will be able to return to Japan within a few years and be able to make a directly opposite statement."

Observers pointed out that since the beginning of the current trial, the prosecution has been embarrassed by numerous Japanese witnesses who changed their stories once they got on the witness stand.

OPA Hikes Prices On Several Items

Children's And Men's Low Cost Suits And Topcoats Increased

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—(INS)—The OPA today authorized retail price increases of 10 to 15 per cent on several items of children's and infants' clothing.

The order, which was made to allow manufacturers' increases in labor and material costs, covers children's and infants' cotton wash suits, overalls and jumpersuits and certain other infant wear.

The same order will add approximately 25 per cent to the retail price of men's individually packaged handkerchiefs.

Also effective today is an OPA order which increases the retail prices of men's low-cost suits and coats.

This order permits manufacturers to make up cost increases resulting from a recent ten per cent incentive price rise for base-period wool material.

Knutson Says 20 Per Cent Tax Slash Is Aim

WADENA, Minn., Nov. 7.—(INS)—A new era of "non-synthetic prosperity" under the leadership of the Republican party was predicted today by Rep. Harold Knutson (R) Minn., who said the GOP congressional majority's first move will be a 20 per cent slash in 1947 individual income taxes.

Rep. Knutson, slated to be the Republican chairman of the powerful house ways and means committee, stated he would lose no time in getting tax legislation underway. He declared:

"This country is tired of needless and wasteful spending—and being soaked with burdening taxes because of faults of the government. There will be two tax bills in 1947. I will introduce a bill providing for a 20 per cent cut in the individual income taxes effective for the calendar year of 1947.

"The second bill will be directed to the elimination of some and downward adjustment of other excise taxes and to urgent administrative amendments to the present revenue code."

Rep. Knutson made his statements from his Wadena home after his re-election over the Democratic farmer-labor nominee.

Jubilant over the Republicans' deep inroads into Democratic congressional power in the Tuesday elections, Knutson said the bill contemplated to cut individual income taxes "should be passed immediately."

Knutson said the cut would save American taxpayers more than $3,000,000,000 despite "President Truman's insistence that taxes cannot be lowered."

WASHINGTON CALLING (Continued From Page Four)

take over. They have been re-elected time after time in orthodox Republican districts and now the escalator of seniority has brought them to the top.

If these men throw all caution to the winds in the flush of victory, if their motive is revenge, if their only objective is to push the clock back, then we shall be in for serious trouble. Such arrogance and such heedlessness might even jeopardize the bright hopes of the party for 1948.

That same escalator carried southern Democrats to the top during the Republican twenties. They blocked measure after measure that the New Deal administration sponsored. They are one reason the party is so badly split today.

One thing certainly is true. The opportunity for positive leadership was ever greater. But if you judge from the kind of campaign they put on, it is hard to see how such leadership can come from the Republican party.

The reaction to the election here in New York somehow typified the whole campaign. There were a few apathetic strollers in Times Square that even the breathless radio could not exaggerate into a crowd. In a mood of discontent and distrust, America went to the polls.

THIS is the story of a blighted romance. These Swiss sweethearts have come to the parting of the ways. He keeps on climbing UP. She keeps on coming DOWN. Only a while ago they started out together, hand-in-hand. Now they are growing farther and farther apart.

This is also the story of your cost of living. It has been climbing steadily. Department of Labor statistics show that it has gone up 31% since 1939.

But wait a minute! National average figures show that the cost of electricity has actually been coming downward. Since 1939—through years of war and shortages, rising prices and higher taxes—the cost of electricity has decreased 14%!

Actually, the average American family is now getting twice as much electricity for its money as it did 20 years ago. Never in all history has electricity done so many tasks for such little cost.

Your friends and neighbors in this company—under sound business management—made this possible. Your own increased use helped.

Samuels Named Christmas Seal Drive Chairman

Annual Tuberculosis Christmas Seal Sale To Begin In County Nov. 25

ALEC SAMUELS

Alec Samuels, well-known businessman of the city, today was named to the chairmanship of the 1946 Christmas Seal sale which will get under way in Lawrence county November 25 to raise funds for tuberculosis control work.

The announcement was made by Jack O. Huston, president of the Lawrence County Tuberculosis society.

The county campaign is part of the nation-wide annual Christmas Seal sale which will continue until December 25.

Urges All To Give

"It is up to each and every one of us to back this worthy campaign," Chairman Samuels said. "It is imperative that the drive for funds in this county be a success in order that the tuberculosis society may extend its activities to control a wasteful, costly disease."

As in former years the only solicitation during the campaign will be made by mailing the seals to individuals. All you are asked to do is purchase the seals mailed to you. The funds will be put to work to improve the health of our community and combat this foe which last year took the lives of 31 persons in Lawrence county alone.

Proper field work and actual control of the disease cannot be accomplished without funds. Help the society fight this enemy in the months ahead.

Help In Work

Helping to prepare the ground-work for the campaign were the following women of the Gurney Sergeant Harry T. Burns unit:

Mrs. Mina Dout, Mrs. Sabina Suber, Mrs. Ruth Brown, Angelo Laxson, Maxine Chirazzi, Mary Canfora, Mrs. Anna Castele, Mrs. Hazel McWilliams, Mrs. Gladys Winlow, Mrs. Ernie McAllen and Miss Janice McAllen.

Gold Star Mothers who also have lent their assistance were Mrs. George Kennedy, Mrs. William Carlin, Mrs. Ottaviano, Mrs. Nellie Farrell and Mrs. Mina Dout.

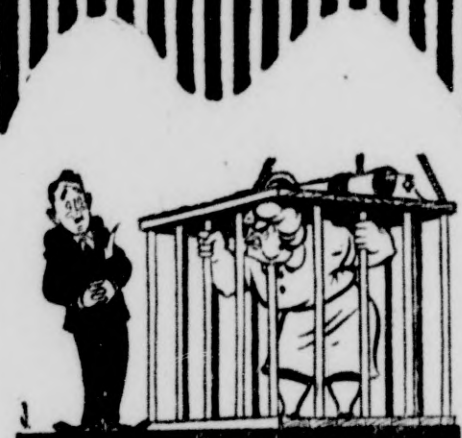

Girl Scouts of the city assisted in folding and enveloping the seals preparatory to mailing.

Plan To Exploit Vast Oil Fields In Brazil Soon

Permission By Government Would Throw Open Large Industry In South America

RIO DE JANEIRO—(INS)—Huge oil reserves, believed existent in Brazil, will be tapped shortly if present governmental plans materialize and this country's mineral resources are opened to foreign exploitation.

Under existing law no foreign enterprise may participate in development of Brazil's mineral resources except by special franchise, but Brazil's constituent assembly, now engaged in writing a new constitution, plans to modify this restriction.

It would appear a good bet that the law will be changed, because the major American, British and Dutch oil companies all have brought expert lobbyists to Brazil in recent weeks, in anticipation of an oil rush.

Activities Hush-Hush

Their activities are all very hush-hush, but none so much as those of the Russian embassy, which is reported to have suggested to the foreign ministry the possibility of a trade agreement with Russia hinging on Russian assistance in developing a Brazilian petroleum industry.

A rich oil strike in Brazil would be a boon to this traditionally oil-poor country. Brazil always imported all oil, both petroleum and refined products, and even today the government-owned Bahia fields are producing only 40 barrels a day.

However, both government and private geologists affirm that the states of Bahia, Sao Paulo, Parana and Mato Grosso, and the Territory of Acre all have regions which indicate at least 55% possibility of being rich in oil.

One insistent rumor is that geologists of certain American companies have long known exactly where Brazil's richest fields are located, but have maintained their secret while Brazil refused to allow foreign exploitation.

Probable development of Brazilian oil fields will center in Sao Paulo and Parana first, as being more likely than the scattered Bahia deposits. These two states are heavily populated and well-served with transportation facilities.

Rich oil basins are believed a certainty in the hinterlands of Mato Grosso, which drains the wealthy Bolivian oil region, and the Territory of Acre, which drains the Peruvian Amazon sections.

Much of this territory is unexplored, and transportation is nonexistent, so that development of oil fields must come later.

At the present time Brazil imports only refined oil products. Shortly before the war the Standard Oil Company constructed a large refinery in Sao Paulo, but before it could be operated the Vargas government issued new restrictive laws. The refinery's machinery and land were subsequently sold for other uses.

Kiwanians See Film Wednesday

Interesting Picture Story On Building Of Anderson Dam Is Presented To Club

New Castle Kiwanis Club saw an interesting film at their noon luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Wednesday, depicting the construction of Anderson Dam, in Idaho, which was a masterpiece of engineering.

The picture was furnished through the courtesy of the Good-year Tire and Rubber Company, which furnished a conveyor system used in the construction of the dam, and which carried thousands of tons of clay over ten miles of rough mountainous country to the site of the dam, after it had been used previously in the construction of Shasta Dam. More than eight millions of tons of earth were moved on that job alone.

The meeting was enlivened by a little political horseplay engineered by Jim Mayberry, which made a hit with some of the members.

Patterson Again Urges Uniting Of All Armed Forces

War Secretary Says—"We Cannot Afford To Gamble On Inefficient Separate Costly Systems"

CARLISLE, Pa., Nov. 7.—(INS)—Secretary of War Patterson renewed the army's campaign for unification of the armed forces, declaring that "we cannot continue to gamble on such an inefficient, costly system in either peace or war."

Patterson also urged adoption of the army's proposal for universal military training and stressed the importance of meeting army recruiting needs which he placed at 40,000 enlistments monthly.

The secretary spoke at the graduation exercises of the Army Information School at Carlisle, Pa., barracks. He said:

"No matter how capable the soldiers who compose our army, they must be part of an over-all national defense organization that can cope with the speed and immensity of modern war. Unification is the name of the proposal to give the nation such an organization."

Weakness is Plain
"The weakness of our present system, with separate secretaries of the navy and war, is plain on the records of this last war. We cannot continue to gamble on such an inefficient, costly system in either peace or war."

Patterson told the Army Information School graduates that they were called upon to use force greater than the atomic bomb in putting across to the public the army's needs. He said: "That force is words."

Patterson declared that "explosives, in the general accepted military sense, may destroy an entire city," adding that "words can wipe out an entire way of life or create a new world."

COUNTY HAS 2,281 RECEIVING RELIEF

During the week ending October 26, the Department of Public Assistance listed a total of 2,281 persons from Lawrence county receiving relief checks.

This total broken down reveals that 312 persons were getting general assistance, 899 were on the old-age rolls, 926 were dependent children and 144 were receiving blind pensions.

Operates Okinawa 'Brush-Off' Club

Corporal In Charge Of 'Broken Hearts' Club For Bitter G.I.s On Island

SEATTLE—(INS)—Cpl. Philip S. Sperry, 19, has admitted to his parents that he operates a "Dear John" club on Okinawa.

The Okinawa-stationed soldier handles the exclusive broken hearts program for Station WXLH, Armed Forces Radio, Okinawa.

In a letter to his parents, Col. and Mrs. G. W. Sperry, Cpl. Sperry wrote that the "Dear John Association" is comprised of men serving on Okinawa who have received kiss-off letters from fiancées who found someone else.

The Dear John radio program was built from trade romances "on the theory that if the world laughs, you'll laugh, too," Cpl. Sperry wrote. The club boasts 150 members to date.

Ninety per cent of the letters which are read on the radio and the original letters as received from stateside. Each G.I. who covers his broken heart with a grin and joins Dear John, is presented with an artistic certificate of membership.

Typical letters received are: "Dear John, remember that cute sailor you introduced me to when you were here on leave? Well, he has been here ever since. . . Mother thinks he's wonderful, and so do I. A few weeks ago he proposed to me, and mother accepted him."

"Dear John, I have met and married a fellow who was in the infantry 31 months. I remember well the dreams we shared. . . However, I decided you weren't for me. P. S. I am keeping the ring and camera for remembrance." Dear John, please do not be angry at me, but I have just married your friend Joe, whom you introduced to me on your last furlough."

American nationals own about 57.7 per cent of the world's present proved crude oil reserves, estimated at almost 64 billion barrels.

Promise Sugar
Shortage Relief

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—(INS)—American consumers should get some relief from the current sugar shortage within the next few weeks and their sugar ration probably will be increased next April.

That's the forecast today of an agriculture department official who outlined the supply situation in sugar, one remaining food commodity still rationed in this country.

This official revealed that the government tentatively had decided that the sugar rationing program could be eased about April 1 because of the encouraging outlook in the supply situation.

Keep berries cool and out of the sun. They will keep better if placed in the refrigerator.

Will Contest
Election Of
Sen. Kilgore

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 7.—(INS)—West Virginia Republican leaders today mapped plans to have the courts decide the outcome of the bitter senatorial battle which saw Democratic incumbent Harley M. Kilgore, an ardent New Dealer, recapture his senate seat by one of the smallest margins in the state's stormy political history.

Charge Voters Halted

The GOP leaders, led by Walter S. Hallahan, Republican state committeeman, charged that deputy sheriffs, armed with pistols, halted Republican voters from casting ballots for Tom Sweeney, Wheeling industrialist and Kilgore's rival in the closely-contested campaign.

Hallahan blamed "gross irregularities at the polls in many southern West Virginia coal mining communities" for the estimated 2000-vote lead Kilgore held over his opponent after complete but unofficial returns were tabulated.

The committeeman announced that the Republican party will see that "no man will be seated in the United States senate" following an election won "by intimidation and corruption such as was carried on in West Virginia".

Have Ballots Impounded

At the same time he ordered GOP county chairmen to take the necessary legal steps to have the ballot boxes impounded until the official counting begins on Monday.

Hallahan added that reliable reports pouring into his office showed that in Logan county Republican ballots were picked out of the boxes and burned and that in many other precincts "only one of many Republican votes cast was counted".

In such precincts he ordered his chairmen to seek affidavits from party members who voted for Sweeney.

Battle Colors
For Guard Units
On Armistice Day

HARRISBURG, Nov. 7.—(INS)—Pennsylvania National Guard units were scheduled today to receive their battlefield colors November 11 during Armistice Day ceremonies in Harrisburg.

The emblems, carried in war by the history-making 28th Division, will be returned to the outfit's peace time components by Maj. Gen. Norman D. Cota, World War II commander of the Keystone unit.

Gov. Edward Martin, former commander of the division, and Maj. Gen. E. J. Stackpole, head of the newly organized guard, will receive the banners at the State Capitol as the climax of a parade.

The colors and guidons will be placed in the war relic room at the state museum by a group of hand-picked officers and enlisted men of the Guard's 28th Division, 51st Anti-Aircraft Artillery Brigade and 111th Infantry Regimental Combat team. Brig. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler, assistant PNG division commander, will serve as escort of honor.

Meetings Continue
At City Mission

Evangelistic services which began Tuesday evening in the City Rescue Mission, 17 South Mercer street, with Joe Morone, of New York City, as evangelist, will continue this evening at 7:45 o'clock, and will close on Friday night.

Tonight, Rev. Morone will speak on the subject "Superman" using a Biblical background as he presents facts concerning present day world conditions in the light of prophecy. Wednesday evening a good crowd turned out to hear Joe present in his own unique manner an address on "Cains Lies". Mr. Morone led his own song service, with Mrs. Harold Spiker, favoring the audience with a solo number.

Evangelist Morone will be heard on the Youth for Christ program Saturday evening at eight o'clock in the First Methodist church.

Warehouse Fire Damage $500,000 In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 7.—(INS)—Firemen from 35 companies battled three hours today to subdue a four-alarm blaze which wrecked two buildings in the heart of Philadelphia's warehouse district on the Delaware waterfront.

The fire caused damage estimated unofficially at upward of half a million dollars to the five-story M. Bercovitz box and basket factory and the Foxes and company wool warehouse. A third storage building was also affected by flames and water.

Hoseman David Howard, 39, suffered a chest injury when a wall collapsed, knocking him from a ladder. Firemen kept on the job combing the wreckage and wetting down the smoldering debris, meanwhile re-routing traffic in the vicinity.

Crushed in the blaze were tons of crates in the Bercovitz building and $250,000 worth of wool in the Foxes company structure. Floating wisps of burning wool constantly menaced firemen and 5,000 onlookers as flames roared 60 feet high.

Acting Chief Engineer William Simmler said the flames apparently started from a cigarette carelessly tossed among a pile of crates outside the Bercovitz warehouse. The fire quickly gained headway with the brisk wind.

Firemen stationed throughout the area wetted down adjacent buildings, preventing a much larger loss.

NORTH STREET PUPILS WILL VIEW PICTURES

Through the courtesy of Miss Margaret Hemphill, teacher at the North street grade school, boys and girls of the school, this week, witnessed beautiful pictures of Canton and Shanghai China that were taken during the past war by one of the veterans of the war.

Today, boys and girls of the school witnessed travel pictures of the nation's capital at Washington, D. C. and also pictures of Coney Island. The pictures are being shown in conjunction with the school's visual aid program and with the use of the school's new 16mm movie machine.

Gracing Professor Hoffmaster's desk in the school office are two beautiful, fragrant irises raised by Miss Pearl Gibbons, teacher in the school. Miss Gibbons reported that it is the second blooming of the flowers, with the scent just as fragrant as it was at the first blooming.

OHIO STATE STUDENT
Robertine Edwards of New Castle is one of 24,650 students enrolled at Ohio State university this term. The total number of students is nearly double the pre-war peak. More than 13,000 of them are veterans.

The shortage of Climalene has been hard on all concerned—you who depend on it for your household tasks, the grocers who depend on it as a steady sales item in their stores, and lastly ourselves.

You see, for several months we couldn't get raw materials and had to stop production.

Now we're making Climalene again. But with stocks cleaned out and demand so heavy, you may have to get along with a limited supply for a while. Much as it hurts, we have to say, "Please use Climalene sparingly and make it last longer".

Paul Finds the Church at Philippi

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL.
(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Nov. 10 is Acts 16:11-40; Philippians 1:3-6; 2:1-11; 4:8-22, the Memory Verse being Philippians 4:6. "In nothing be anxious; but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God.")

PAUL, SILAS, Luke, and a new disciple. Timothy, left Troas and went to the town of Philippi, an important city of Macedonia. Paul had previously had a vision in the night in which a man from Macedonia begged him to come over and help them.

On the sabbath the four went to the river bank "where prayer was wont to be made" when there was no synagogue in the city. There they met a woman, apparently a widow, a business woman who was named Lydia because she came from Thyatira, a city of Lydia, and a dealer in fine purple. The Lord opened her heart so that she accepted the gospel and was baptized with her household. Lydia then begged the disciples to go home with her and accept her hospitality, which they did, rather reluctantly, and afterwards made it their headquarters.

As they went to prayer, Paul and Silas encountered a girl who "possessed a spirit of divination, which brought her masters much gain by soothsaying." She followed Paul about, crying, "These men are the servants of God, which shew unto us the way of salvation." She seemed to be suffering from a form of hysteria which made her to cry out, and her masters capitalized on her infirmity by interpreting her incoherent sayings, and were unkind to her.

Paul stood it for some time, several days, in fact, then he said to the spirit that possessed her, "I command thee in the name of Jesus, Christ, to come out of her." The tormenting spirit came out, but when her masters saw that she had regained her sanity and the hope of their gains was gone, they were very angry and took Paul and Silas to the marketplace, before the magistrates, accusing them of troubling the city and teaching customs "which are not lawful for us to observe, being Romans."

Disciples Unlawfully Beaten
The people then rose up against the disciples and "the magistrates ordered off their clothes, and commanded to beat them." They "laid many stripes on them," then cast them into prison, telling the jailor to keep them safe. The jailor put them into an inner prison and made their feet fast in the stocks. This was all unlawful, for according to Roman law they should have had an open trial before being so mistreated.

At midnight Paul and Silas, beaten and suffering as they were, prayed and sang praises unto God, and the other prisoners heard them.

"Then suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison were shaken; and immediately all the doors were opened, and everyone's hands were loosed."

Awakened out of sleep, the jailor or prison ruler saw the prison doors open, and concluded that all his prisoners had escaped. Knowing that he would be blamed, he decided to end his life, but Paul cried out to him in a loud voice, saying, "Do thyself no harm; for we are all here." The poor jailor called for a light and came down, trembling, dropping on his knees before Paul and Silas. He brought them out of the prison, asking, "Sirs, what must I do to be saved?" They told him to believe on the Lord Jesus Christ. He took them to his own house, set meat before them, cared for their wounds, and then he and all his household were baptized.

When it was day, the magistrates sent servants to loose Paul and Silas. However, they refused to go, saying, "They have beaten us openly, uncondemned, being Romans, and have cast us into prison; and now do they thrust us out privily?"

may verily; but let them come themselves and fetch us out."

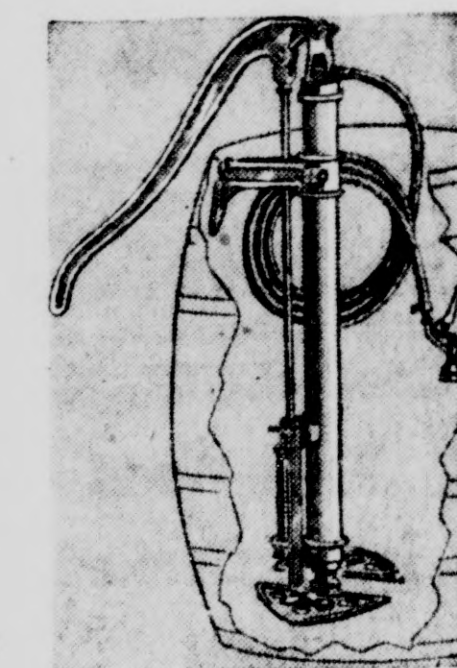

The messengers told the magistrates and they were frightened, when they heard the disciples were Romans, so they came hastily and brought them out and asked them to leave the city. Instead, they went to Lydia's house, where they comforted the brethren, and then they departed.

Paul A Prisoner
Eleven years later, Paul, now a prisoner in Rome, wrote his letters to the Philippians. He faced martyrdom, but all his sufferings had not broken his spirit. He was tireless in preaching to all who would listen to him. It is said that "his letters reveal a new attitude of chastened resignation, vast tolerance, and universal kindness." Quoting from the same source, "his last letters, though much slier than the earlier ones are the most moving and poignant of all. The spirit of the letter to the Philippians, especially, seems close to that of the finest passages in the Gospels."

We have not room to quote much from these letters, but in the fourth chapter of Philippians we read and should memorize this oft quoted

Return Of Fine Is Court Order

Court Directs Mayor To Refund Fine Imposed In Case During 1945

OTHER NEWS OF COURT HOUSE

By an order of Judge W. Walter Braham, on Wednesday afternoon, Mayor John F. Haven is directed to return a fine of $100 to Angelo Casacchia, a fine which was assessed in 1945 for permitting soldiers to gather in his cafe on Neshannock avenue.

The case is one where the military authorities of Deshon Annex placed the cafe off limits. Following this action the city council passed an ordinance making it a violation for any cafe operator or any place of business to permit soldiers in their places once the military had declared it off limits.

Several soldiers were found in the cafe in question and Mr. Casacchia was brought into the mayor's office and fined $100. This he appealed to the courts and the matter has been in abeyance for over a year.

For Mr. Casacchia, Attorney Alvah M. Shumaker argued that such an ordinance was unconstitutional in that it gave the military authority over civilian places where no emergency existed. He claimed the ordinance was purportedly drawn to protect the quality of food and drinks but that in actual practice it did nothing of the kind.

Witnesses that were to have appeared for the city were men in service who are now scattered over the country and it was impossible to get them here to testify. For lack of prosecution by the city, the case was closed with the above order handed down.

ASKS RETURN OF FINE

In a brief filed by Attorney Alvah M. Shumaker in behalf of Angelo Casacchia in the case of the City of New Castle against him, a number of reasons are given why a fine of $100 assessed against Mr. Casacchia should be returned to him. The fine was assessed in September when Mr. Casacchia was arrested by Policeman Victor Cubellis after an altercation in Neshannock avenue.

The brief sets out that Mr. Casacchia was given a hearing on Sunday, no witnesses were subpoenaed and the brief contends the entire process was not in accordance with the law.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up at night. Frequent urinary passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging headache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Armistice Day Event Is Near

Veterans Will "Remember
November" With County-Wide Celebration In Ellwood

TWELVE BANDS TO BE IN PARADE

The eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month of the year of 1918 will be recalled again by many veterans who helped make that day possible. Sons of those same veterans or probably younger brothers, will be reminded of that historic date again and many of them will recall marching over the same battle fields and fighting along the same lines as their elders fought over twenty-eight years ago.

Ellwood City will be the scene of the observance of this event when the Lawrence County committee of the American Legion holds its annual Armistice Day exercises.

Up to this date, twelve different bands and musical organization have signified their intentions of taking part in the parade and in the competitions which follow in the afternoon.

The parade is scheduled to move at 10:30 and while the line of march is not long, nevertheless, the parade and the judging of the different units in the parade will take up most of the morning. In the afternoon at 1:30 the massed bands will give a concert which will be followed by the various musical competitions. Prizes totaling $500.00 will be awarded during the various competitions.

All this will be staged in the athletic field of the Lincoln High school and then immediately following these competitions, the football teams of Ellwood City Hi and Midland Hi will take the field and give out the best they have in football for the entertainment of the fans.

The parade will be organized by community units this year for the first time. This means that all units from a town or city will be grouped together and will march immediately after the musical organization representing that town or community. This arrangement will not only make judging easier but will facilitate the formation and the movement of the parade.

"Remember November" in Ellwood City, Monday, November 11, is the slogan of the committee.

BACK NEW GREEK CABINET FOLLOWING THREE-DAY DEBATE

ATHENS, Nov. 7.—(INS)—The Athens parliament closed three days of fiery debate today by voting confidence in the new strongly-rightist cabinet of Premier Constantinos Tsaldaris.

The vote was 183 to 128.

Not a single opposition party is represented in the reconstituted government, which Tsaldaris formed following consultation with King George II of the Hellenes. Only six of the 31 cabinet ministers and undersecretaries are not members of the Populist party, which holds a majority in the assembly. Even these six, however, belong to factions closely affiliated with the Populists.

STRONG SUPPORT ASSURED DUFF IN GENERAL ASSEMBLY

HARRISBURG, Nov. 7.—(INS)—Attorney General James H. Duff, Republican governor-elect, was assured today of strong support at the 137th regular session of the general assembly next year.

Unofficial tabulations of returns from 208 legislative contests showed that the GOP had won 171 seats in the house of representatives, affording the Republicans the greatest working majority in 14 years.

In the senate races, Republican candidates captured 20 seats while Democrats were victorious in five contests.

The new senate makeup, including 14 Republicans and 11 Democratic holdovers, was 34 for the GOP and 16 for the Democrats. Thirty-four votes were necessary for a constitutional majority.

In 1931 and 1932, the makeup of the lower chamber included 184 Republicans and 22 Democrats.

SEE OPEN WAR
IF AFL PICKETS
BARS AND TAVERNS

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 7.—(INS)—The AFL plan to picket 60 taverns and bars, selling what the AFL termed "unfair" beer, was scheduled to begin today in Pittsburgh as open warfare between the AFL teamsters and the CIO United Brewery Workers continued.

The picketing was to start yesterday, according to labor leaders, but was deferred until signs could be printed for the pickets from both the teamsters and the AFL Bar-tenders Unions.

Meanwhile, the teamsters lost their second court attempt for a temporary injunction restraining certain beer distributors from handling CIO-made beer.

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly alleviates the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

Dr. R. F. Galbreath Will Be Honored

NEW WILMINGTON, Nov. 7.—Mercer County chapter of the Westminster College Alumni association will honor Dr. and Mrs. Robert F. Galbreath at a dinner, Friday evening, Nov. 15 in the United Presbyterian church at Sharon. Dr. Galbreath is the former president of Westminster.

Paul Gamble, president of the chapter, is arranging the program, and announces that it will include a talk by Robert Maxwell, alumni secretary and musical numbers by college students.

Mrs. H. Lloyd Cleland, wife of President Cleland of the college, is also expected to attend. Dr. Cleland will be unable to attend because of a meeting of United Presbyterian college presidents in Chicago the same evening.

The flow of the Mississippi River may vary from 100,000 cubic feet per second to more than two million.

Calcium and phosphorus occur in fish fillets in about the same quantities as in beef round.

Writ Dismissal Sought By PUC In Taxicab Case

HARRISBURG, Nov. 7.—(INS)—The Public Utility Commission today sought dismissal of a writ of alternative mandamus filed in the Dauphin county court by the GI Taxicab Association of Philadelphia, applicant for permission to operate taxis.

The commission pleaded insufficient time to study voluminous testimony for rendering a decision on the petition.

In reply to a court order to show cause why it should not act on the 16-month-old application, the PUC asserted it was under "no legal duty to render a decision and order in this case until such adequate consideration and deliberation can properly be had." The writ was obtained October 18.

It was "unreasonable," the commission claimed, "to impose such a duty" upon it, since the association had not completed filing briefs until June 1, 1946.

SEVEN ASSEMBLY SEATS ARE GAINED IN WESTERN PENNA.

The GOP unseated rivals in Beaver, Fayette, Cambria and Washington counties.

MINESWEEPER AFIRE IN ALLEGHENY RIVER

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 7.—(INS)—Three fire companies today battled a fire which gutted the generator room of one of two navy minesweepers anchored in the Allegheny river.

The estimated $1000 fire was discovered early this morning by Howard Bignell, QMSC, on watch on the minesweeper. He sounded the alarm after arousing all sleeping personnel aboard.

The two minesweepers left Japan four months ago and were brought here for use in training members of the organized naval reserves.

Tax Reduction Exponents Will Hold Key Posts

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—(INS)—Two Republicans pledged to slash the nation's outlay of public money and the taxpayers' bill today were in key positions for carrying out their program.

The Republican landslide will elevate Rep. Knutson (R) Minn., who has called for a 20 per cent income tax cut—to the chairmanship of the powerful House Ways and Means committee, which initiates tax legislation.

It boosts another economy-minded Republican, Rep. Taber, N. Y., to the House Appropriations chairmanship.

Both are House veterans who have fought vigorously against New Deal spending policies.

In a House speech Taber went on record for a postwar peacetime budget of some 32 billion dollars a year—some 10 billions under the administration estimates.

Knutson has been using the Taber estimate of thirty-two billions in political speeches, declaring that with estimated tax receipts of 40 billion dollars, it would be possible to meet current costs, pay five billions a year toward retirement of the nation's 260-billion dollar debt, and still reduce income taxes 20 per cent.

Bronze Workers Get Wage Increase

Second Union Contract Signed By Johnson Bronze Company And Local Union 69

Contract and wage agreement has been signed after six weeks of negotiating by the Johnson Bronze company and the local union No. 69, UAW-CIO, after ratification of two local meetings Wednesday evening at 10:15 o'clock.

Highlights of the agreement are: down payment of five cents per hour wage increase to all workers covered by the agreement, effective on November 11, as a down payment on the second round of wage increases that may be established as a national pattern, the difference to be paid after the pattern is set.

Also an improved vacation plan, incentive wage increase are to be reviewed semi-annually, paid Christmas holiday and union time study observers and several other modified sections of agreements are included.

This is the second union contract that the Johnson Bronze has signed, demonstrating that labor relations can succeed without any stoppage of work or strikes.

Representatives of the company in these negotiations were P. J. Flaherty, Preston Flaherty, Edward Flaherty, Louis Sandler and Joseph Diffey.

Representatives for the union were Ruben Peters, international representative of the UAW-CIO; Joseph Daugherty, president of Local 69; George Thompson, committeeman; William Mitto, Leslie Scott and Patsy Padovano.

MODERN METHOD SPEEDS UP RECOVERY OF CATTLE

An on the spot photograph of the use of a discovery of recent years, in animal husbandry, was made by The News photographer on the farm of John Long, R. D. 7, Mahoningtown, who is seen to the right of the picture.

Seen in the picture is a high bred cow being given an intravenous injection of calcium gluconate. Administering the injection is Veterinary MacIntyre Robbins. The animal is suffering from milk fever, a fever caused by a calcium deficiency in the system. If not attended immediately, the cow will die.

With the system used before the intravenous injection and sometimes used to this day, it is a considerable time before the animal is well. With the calcium gluconate, the cow is on its feet in from 15 to 30 minutes after the injection. The cow in the picture was standing and eating in about 25 minutes.

The fever occurs usually in well-bred cows that give a large supply of milk immediately after the birth of a calf. The process used before the advent of calcium gluconate was the forcing of air into the udder of the cow, usually taking hours for results. With the present system, the solution is injected into a vein of the neck in much the same manner as plasma is given into the arm of a human.

Start Proceedings Against Schacht

LONDON, Nov. 7.—(INS)—The Leipzig radio reported today that denazification proceedings against Hjalmar Schacht, former finance minister of the third reich, have been started.

According to the broadcast which was heard by Reuters, Schacht—who was acquitted by the Nuernberg war crimes tribunal—went before the denazification court at Stuttgart yesterday in the U. S. zone.

A REPORT

of the progress we're making in wiping out the waiting list for telephone service in
NEW CASTLE

Telephone instruments are coming through O.K.

We're now getting sufficient supplies of telephone instruments to meet current demands. That part of the job is under control.

Major addition to central office equipment scheduled for near future

By next summer, we hope to complete the installation of a substantial addition to the central office equipment serving the telephones in this area. This will provide facilities sufficient to take care of many of those now waiting for service.

More "outside plant" needed

But before service can be furnished to many of those now on the waiting list, we'll need additional outside plant . . . wire and cable to connect telephones with the central office. Continuing shortages of lead and cable and other unpredictable factors make it difficult to determine when we'll be able to get this part of the job done. We hope it will be soon.

Thousands of dollars to wipe out waiting lists

Altogether we'll spend thousands of dollars in this locality—and millions of dollars throughout the state—to provide the facilities needed to furnish telephone service to all who want it. It's a big job and the problems are many. But we're making real progress. Your continued understanding is greatly appreciated.

In every case, our Business Office will notify applicants as soon as it is possible to give them service.

tion.In the early fall of 1876, John Ayres drove to Enon Valley, where
J. M. Davies of New Castle was preaching in the Enon Valley
Christian church and brought him to Chewton, where he preached to a small gathering of the citizens, most of whom were members of other churches. Accepting the plea of the restoration movement to be "Christians only," with his help, this group organized the Christian church early in November 1876.
They first met in an old red school house, which was torn down and a frame building built where they continued to meet until June 7, 1925, when the present church building was dedicated.Charles P. Durbin, present min-

Reveal Details On Big Swindle

Official Prosecution Story On Mergenthaler Linotype Co. Swindle Is Made Public

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—(INS)—The official prosecution story disclosing details of the $734,000 Mergenthaler Linotype swindle was made public today by Assistant District Attorney Julius Helfand.

Helfand said the disclosure showed the sudden end of the war with Japan and subsequent cancellation of contracts was one of the factors that led William Arthur Nickel, $100-a-week cashier of the Mergenthaler company to engage in the alleged embezzlement.

Helfand said that Nickel had been placed on the payroll of the Mergenthaler company at $100 a week in addition to his salary at the Mergenthaler company to aid the optical company to meet its payroll by issuing checks a day or two ahead of time.

Ultima, Helfand said, had a working agreement with the Mergenthaler company as a sub-contractor on government contracts.

At the sudden end of the war, the amount of money Nickel had advanced to the Ultima was said by Helfand to have been "considerable."

Helfand said it was at this point that Nickel asked Rappaport to cash a $10,000 check. Rappaport, Helfand said, did not cash the check but introduced Nickel to Julie Davis, also known as Jimmy Collins who allegedly got Joseph Milstein to assist in cashing the check. Davis is being sought but Milstein is under $25,000 bond in connection with the case.

Helfand said Rappaport was "frozen out" of the deal later and that Nickel, Davis and Milstein continued their operations for nearly a year, netting them $734,000 which was split between them.

Chinese Troops Push To Edge Of Dairen Seaport

PEIPING, Nov. 7.—(INS)—Chinese government troops pushed to the edge of the Russian-controlled seaport of Dairen today in the Nationalist drive to seal off Manchurian supply lines of Chinese Communist forces.

Amid the renewed military activity on Manchuria's Liaotung peninsula, reports that the Russians plan to hand over Dairen to the Chinese government continued to circulate. The newspaper, Hsin Sheng Pao, unofficial organ for the Kuomintang (Government party) military group, in commenting editorially on the twenty-ninth anniversary of the founding of the Soviet Union, said:

"According to the belief prevailing in China, Dairen will be soon opened as an international port. This demonstrates that relations between China and the Soviet Union have improved."

Military activities in Manchuria and on North China's Shantung peninsula were reported in dispatches claimed that 50,000 Chinese Communists were concentrated in Dairen awaiting transportation across Pechili strait, to Chefoo, the Shantung port now under siege by Nationalist troops.

Indications were that the Chinese Communists planned to defend Chefoo with all their strength in a reversal of their previous military policy of abandoning cities under attack by superior government forces.

Huge Supply Of Stamps Ordered For Christmas

Requisition Placed For Two Million Three-Cent And Cent-And-A-Half Variety

Postmaster William R. Hanna is already looking forward to Christmas. As a matter of fact, he has to keep looking forward to every angle of the postal business, so that he will not be caught short of supplies.

He has figured that the local post office will need a million cent-and-a-half stamps and a million three-cent stamps to take care of the tremendous business anticipated this year at the local post office, and will have them on hand when they are needed.

This is in addition to the huge supply of stamps of a higher denomination which will be used in the parcel post department.

Since the advent of the five-cent rate on air mail, the local post office has used 30,000 of these stamps, the supply of 20,000 being sent them the first of the month having been exhausted by October 19, and an additional supply of 75,000 was rushed here to supply the demand. Since the middle of the month, however, the rush tapered off, due in some part to the fact that stamps to the value of five cents are acceptable on air mail. If it is so designated, and it is believed a lot of people are sending air mail in this manner.

Churchill's Efforts' With Japan Cited At Tokyo Trials

TOKYO, Nov. 7.—(INS)—Winston Churchill's efforts to persuade Japan to forsake the tripartite Axis Alliance and avoid war were recounted today at the Tokyo war crimes trial.

The prosecution introduced eight questions which Britain's former prime minister was said to have sent to Yosuke Matsuoka, Japanese foreign minister, in April 1941.

The questions were asserted submitted for Matsuoka's consideration to help Japan "avoid a serious catastrophe."

Evidence introduced as part of the prosecution's case related that Churchill asked:

"Is Italy a strength or a burden to Germany? Is the Italian fleet as good at sea as on paper? Is it as good on paper as it is to be?"

Churchill suggested that the Japanese wait and see whether Germany could gain control of the air in the European war by the fall of 1942.

The British statesman also asked the Japanese if—with Germany defeated—Japan's seven million tons of annual steel production could match the 50 million-ton output of Britain and the United States.

ELIMINATE SLIDE

Berlin Island Between Soviet, American Zones

Americans Have Converted Their Section Into A Replica Of 'Main Street'

BERLIN—(INS)—For thousands of Allied soldiers and civilians Berlin is a big country club where life is soft, sometimes gay, usually rather boring.

There are plenty of gripes, naturally, but many a home-sick GI or civilian will admit in his franker moments that he or she "never had it so good."

The American sector of Berlin resembles the wealthy suburban districts you find on the edges of large cities in the United States.

It includes such elegant communities as Wannsee, Dahlem and Zehlendorf where rich Germans once enjoyed a quiet, luxurious life away from the noise and dirt of central Berlin.

American Sector
The American sector is bounded on the west by the picturesque Wannsee, an elongated river-lake bordered by groves of tall pines.

Here on sunny afternoons, you can see dozens of sailboats with groups of Americans relaxing on the decks or taking snapshots with liberated German cameras.

There are plenty of other diversions here: golf courses, tennis courts, comfortable private clubs, movies, operas and plays.

But the American colony leads an isolated life.
You can't take a Sunday drive into the country because Berlin is surrounded by the Russian zone which you can't enter without a special permit.

You must have Army orders to enter or leave Berlin. If you travel by car, you must follow one of several authorized "corridors" through the Russian zone.

Berlin is an island in many respects, and the American sector is an American island to which the Army has methodically imported many of the items which make up the atmosphere of Main Street. So you will find in Berlin juke boxes, soda fountains, with real malted milks, hot dogs and hamburgers, T-bone steaks, newsstands with all popular magazines, and radio programs just like those at home.

But in spite of all these stage settings Americans are not likely to forget they are in the heart of Prussia. They are living among a million-odd defeated, hungry, envious Germans.

Average American
The average American apparently does not like the role of conqueror. He is embarrassed by the atmosphere of servility and defeat. Newly-arrived wives feel self-conscious because they have so much. Many of them compensate for this feeling by being extremely generous with the Germans who work for them.

That may be the wrong approach, but it is difficult for Americans to adjust their scale of values to European standard.

Americans here are not doing very much to discredit the hardy German legend that the United States is the land of milk and honey.

Vets In Training Must Make Return

Those Who Have Received Payment Of Subsistence Required To Answer Questionnaire

Whether they have had any earned income or not, GI's who were in training under the G. I. program during the month of October must make answer on the form received with their check. Worrell M. Jones, area supervisor of vocational education, who was formerly the officer in charge of the local V. A. office, announced today. Some veterans who had no earned income during the month have been of the opinion that they are not required to answer. This is not the case, Jones states, and failure to answer by November 12 will result in their payments being suspended.

The letter sent to veterans with their subsistence checks reads as follows: "You are requested by Public Law 679 to report on your earnings for the month of October if you were in training under the G. I. program during the month and have received a payment of subsistence allowance. Earned income, if any, is to be reported. If you have no earned income for October, this fact must be reported. Subsistence allowance is not to be reported as earned income. Failure to report will force the suspension of your subsistence payments. Use the form you received with your check. If you have lost that form, get another at your school or at any Veterans Administration office. Report without delay. Failure will cause suspension of your subsistence payments."

Some authorities say that suicide is more prevalent among educated than illiterate groups.

The United States shipped 7,911, 711 net tons of iron and steel to foreign users during 1945.

Medical Science Lowers "the Cost of Living"

Medicine and its related professions and sciences are not only lengthening the span of life, but also are actually "lowering the cost of living" to a healthy, happy old age. For instance, miracle-working penicillin which formerly cost about $20 a dose (wholesale) is now administered to patients at less than a dollar a dose. This is but one example of the countless case histories of things science and doctors have done to bring medical skill and life-saving drugs within the means of all. So, in a very real and valuable way, medical science "lowers the cost of living".

Not only did Geneva hand the Titans their first defeat of the season last Saturday at Farrell, but the Covenantors practically wrecked the Blue and White physically. At least half a dozen regulars have not been able to don uniforms this week because of injuries.

The Geneva tilt was particularly hard fought. The lines were more or less even in poundage but the light Titan backs took a beating both on defense and offense. Injuries were certain to occur, when Privately, most of the bookies believe Army will win.

The bookies, who have their scouts as well as the teams, take no stock in all the bear stories being circulated about injured stars on both teams.

One of them cynically remarked: "I notice all these hospital cases manage to get out and play 60 minutes for their team a few days after

BY LAWTON CARVER

Sports Editor, International News Service

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The outstanding sports story of this year undoubtedly will be Saturday's football tussle between Army and Notre Dame, a T-formation rodeo which is causing some of our great football thinkers to clash in the headlines.

The only real rival to this game as the sports story of the year would be the Joe Louis-Billy Conn fight, but the sad outcome of that encounter and the fact that Louis played the encore in faster time than the original performance lessened the drama.

The Army-Notre Dame engagement almost certainly will be terrific football and, barring a tie, one team will be whipped for the first time this year.

Difference Of Opinion
This has caused a rather sharp difference of opinion between two of the football minds of the century—or perhaps the ages.

Frank Leahy, the Notre Dame coach, predicts defeat for himself and his team. That has good psychological effect on his toilers. Moreover, in case it happens, he can always say I told you so. If it doesn't happen you smile happily.

Sid Luckman, the thick-set T-formation expert who quarterbacked the Chicago Bears, picks Notre Dame. This is a rather sharp difference of opinion between two of the football minds of the century—or perhaps the ages.

Color And Drama
The color and drama of this game has been going on since 1913, but reaches a new high now with both teams undefeated, with both powerful and with Notre Dame humiliated during the war years by the high-riding Cadets.

When Army put together two straight in 1944 and last season by 59 to 0 and 48 to 0 this gave them more points than Notre Dame had scored in winning seven and tying one of the previous eight games between the two teams. It also made the first time that Army had ever won two straight.

And even with those two wins, Army now stands with only seven victories and three ties against 22 defeats.

There is a buildup for one of the greatest tussles of all times in these figures, for Notre Dame will be fired with the determination born of vengeance against an Army team that will get this last chance for a long time to make it three straight.

When Blanchard and Davis and some of those Army linemen pass from the scene up the Hudson, Army will be back with the good teams which will always give you a battle and very often win, but seldom beat Notre Dame.

Blanchard and Davis get their last crack at Notre Dame on the coming Saturday, and if they have been held back against weaker foes in recent games to be ready for this big one, the show they will put on should be worth a football fan's last time to be on hand.

Notre Dame will have a few sights to offer, too, including perhaps the winning end of the score, despite the conviction of Coach Leahy and this writer that Army will win.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The great mystery which currently confounds the football fan is the one which is awaiting next Saturday's Army-Notre Dame clash centers around the Cadets' recent lack of high explosives. To what extent has Army been pulling its punches in recent games?

Some of the observers who knowingly discuss these things insist Army has been going all out and simply lacks the steamroller wallop of the war years, with the result that the high-riding Notre Dames will get even for some recent indignities.

Stars Stay In
You can take either of two facts for the basis of either side of the argument. Army while being held to comparative low scores of late has never been seriously threatened and therefore was content to coast in.

On the other hand you can point out that with Notre Dame coming up a safe procedure would have been to pile it on early and save the standout players. Last Saturday, when Army trimmed West Virginia by 19 to 0, Davis, Blanchard and Tucker, the backfield went nearly all the way.

The three famed backs were not relieved until approximately the last 15 minutes.

Did Not Open Up
Down at Baltimore, to present a contrary picture, Notre Dame used everybody except the third string water by running up its greatest score in history against a Navy team—28 to 0. It could have been twice as bad.

Notre Dame didn't open up with its entire bag of tricks against Navy for the simple reason that the best of its legendsman will be put on display for the whole of West Point and not simply for Head Coach Ear, Blaik. He was on hand for the engagement, and left his own team in the hands of his assistants.

Highlights of the victories by the two eleven which will actually clash for the mythical national championship next Saturday included:

Army—Touchdowns scored in first period on short pass, Tucker to Foldsberg; in the second period on a 46-yard gallop by Blanchard and in the third period on a pass, Tucker to Davis. West Virginia based into scoring territory a half dozen times, only to be stopped and played a whole of a game under do-or-die emotional lift against overwhelming odds.

Notre Dame—Touchdowns scored in first period on 30-yard run by Cowie; twice in second period on four-yard plunge by Simmons after 86-yard march and on one-yard plunge by Simmons after a 52-yard march, and in fourth period on 56-yard march capped by Gompers two-yard plunge.

Army missed one touchdown on a dropped pass in the end zone and Notre Dame had one called back. Both teams fumbled more than usual and played what seemed to be a little more raggedly than in other recent starts, but outcome of neither game was ever in doubt. The favorites scored early and late and stopped threats as fast as they developed.

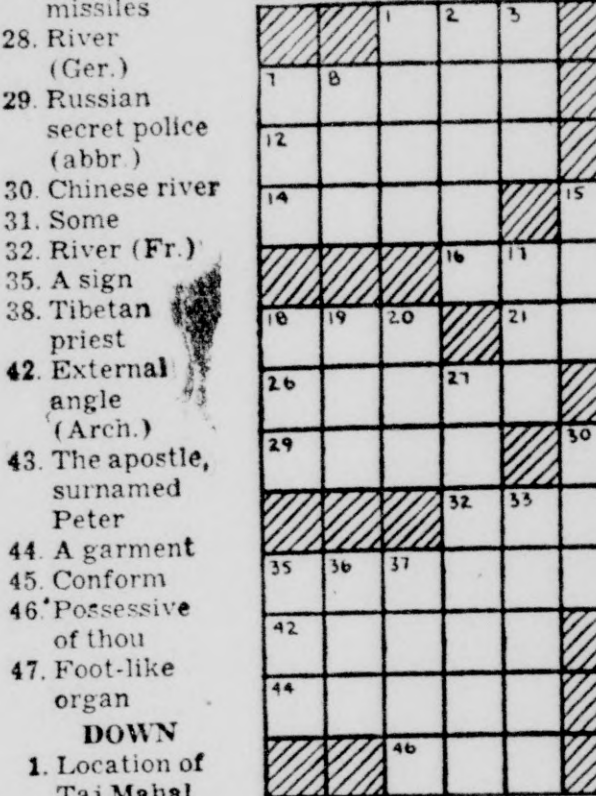

That noise you just heard was a guy getting shot for asking where he could buy some tickets to the game.

Dealers Enjoy Dinner Event

Dealers in Socony-Vacuum Oil products in Lawrence, Mercer and Butler Counties were guests of the company Wednesday night in the club house of the New Castle Country Club at the annual roundup. About 150 were present.

The roundup was in charge of James L. Evans and James A. Bickel, local representatives, with L. P. Tyler, the district manager making the address of welcome to the dealers. L. P. Dorworth of the retailing marketing division acted as the chairman of the meeting.

The principal address was by Samuel McCaleb, lubrication specialist who compared five points in the production and sale of oil to a five card sequence in the same suit. The five elements were the company, the product, the advertising, the dealers' help and finally the dealer himself. Prior to the address some motion pictures were shown.

A buffet supper followed in the dining rooms of the club, with Robert Whitely and Major H. J. Cummings making sure that no one went away hungry. It was a pleasant evening and up to the usual standard of annual meetings of Socony-Vacuum.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 7.—(INS)—Hershey's fast-moving hockey team defeated the Philadelphia Rockets, 7-2, before 2500 fans at the Philadelphia arena last night. The Bears thereby took the lead in the Eastern division of the American league with 17 points.

Attempt To Check Zooming Divorce Rate In Germany

Will Attempt To Stabilize Marriages
By Establishment Of Advisory Clinics

BERLIN—(INS)—Drastic measures to check the zooming German divorce rate are being taken in the Russian zone of occupation.

Health authorities have ordered the immediate establishment throughout the zone of advisory clinics which will try to stabilize marriages and to give scientific advice to prospective brides and grooms.

The clinics will deal with thousands of hasty war marriages in an effort to keep them out of the already swamped divorce courts.

Handle 19,000 Cases

Divorce seems to be in the air. Berlin courts in the past two and a half months have handled more than 19 thousand cases.

Experienced judges are amazed at the particulars of some of the divorce actions. There are women who file suit for divorce while their husbands are still held outside Germany as prisoners of war, although their marriages may have been quite harmonious for years before the war interrupted normal living.

Many men file suit for divorce immediately after returning from imprisonment. This does not necessarily mean that they have discovered that their wives have been unfaithful to them.

War Changes

Psychologists here point out that in many cases it means that the war has changed the marriage partners so that they no longer think alike. They suddenly find they have become strangers to each other.

Sometimes the vague ailment known as "war nerves" completely changes the character of a husband or wife. The divorce courts are full of such cases.

The new marriage clinics which will attempt to reverse the divorce trend will have medical, legal and social divisions.

The social division will employ case workers who will try to determine the cause of conflict in marriage and to eliminate them.

Niagara Falls Slowly Receding Foot Each Year

Gradual Process Has Been Going
On For Millions Of Years,
Experts Claim

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(INS)—The thundering crash of hard dolomite rock from the edge of Niagara's American Falls is described by the National Geographic society as a normal part of continuing process which has moved the falls upstream for milleniums at an average rate of about one foot a year.

An estimated 80,000 tons of rock crumbled away from the American Falls on January 17, 1931. A mass about half as great dropped from the center of the Horseshoe Falls on August 13, 1934, and a 200-ton mass dropped in December of that year from the approximate site of old Table Rock in the Canadian Falls.

Plunges 300 Feet

Geologists suggest that at the close of the Ice Age, the Niagara river plunged 300 feet over its brink of dolomite rock directly into Lake Ontario. Recession began because of the tremendous force of the cataract itself constantly wore away the soft shales beneath a top, 60-foot layer of the hard dolomite. Then the unsupported dolomite ledge broke off in chunks. The same process continues today.

The gradual decrease in the height of the falls from the original 300 feet or more has accompanied the upstream recession because of a very slight "tilt" to the dolomite stratum. The falls are now 167 feet from base to crest on the American side, 162 feet on the Horseshoe or Canadian side. As recession continues over thousands of years, the falls will lose altitude, and the Niagara river finally will be no more than a series of rapids.

Three Feet Per Year

Since the first accurate survey of the falls was made in 1842, recession has averaged more than three feet a year on the Canadian side. Its effect has been to change the Horseshoe from a shallow curve to a deepening V-shape. Recession on the American side has averaged less than a foot annually. Another thousand years may eliminate Goat Island and thus join the Canadian and American Falls.

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 7.—(INS)—

Just to show you that anything can happen in Hollywood, Barbara Stanwyck is suffering from the world's worst hangover without even a sip of anything alcoholic.

It was synthetic movie champagne which gave Barbara the morning-after feeling.

She looked a little green about the gills when she came out of her dressing room to resume work in Enterprise's "The Other Love." She was chewing gum at a mile-a-minute rate.

"I'm fervently hoping that the taste of this will settle me down, but don't be surprised if something terrible happens," Barbara said with a wan smile.

"What in the world is the matter?" your reporter said with genuine solicitude.

"It's that horrible, imitation champagne," Barbara replied, "we've been shooting what's supposed to be a gay ship-board party.

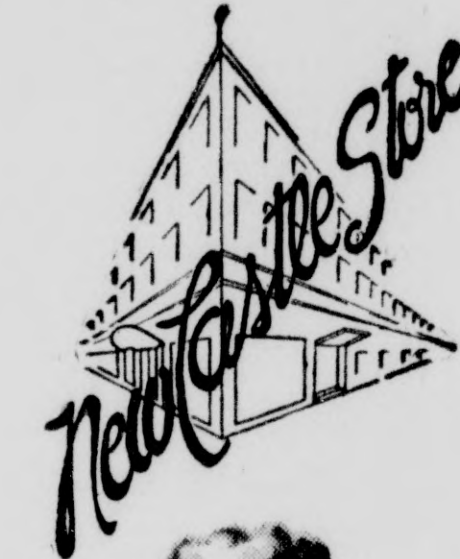

"This is the second day of it. All I hope is that I live through it. We started it with awful stuff they use for champagne."

Your reporter interrupted: "Why wouldn't it be better to use real champagne?"

"Good heavens," said Barbara, "I'd have been on the floor long ago."

The oldest human bones in the United States—so their discoverer believes—were unwrapped at Harvard's Peabody Museum. They are the bones of an extinct Neanderthal man who lived in the old Stone Age 100,000 years ago.

The kangaroo apple of Peru, New Zealand, Australia and Tasmania, is used for food when ripe. It is eaten raw, boiled or baked, and is prized by the aborigines.

Ambassadors On Roller Skates Touring Europe

DETROIT—(INS)—America is trying something new in diplomacy—"ambassadors" on roller skates. Two American champion skaters are the diplomats on the tour, with a group of officers of the Roller Skating Rink Operators Association of the United States and Canada. They are Miss Margaret Mary Wallace and Norman Latin, both of Brooklyn. They will concentrate on reviving pre-war roller skating interests in England where fewer than 30 rinks survived that nation's pre-occupation with the war.

The RSROA says its tour is not simply an exhibition affair but involves the hope that the visit will insure closer and long-lasting ties between the peoples of the countries visited and ourselves.

Accompany Skaters

Accompanying the skaters are

RSROA's United States president, William T. Brown of Seattle, President A. S. Baker of the Canadian Association and Mrs. Barker, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Freeman of president of the United States Association.

The tour includes Belgium, France, Switzerland, Italy and Portugal. The RSROA official will discuss with roller rink operators in these countries means of improving rink operation and methods of securing supplies.
